

An abstract painting of a human figure, viewed from the front, with a focus on the chakras. The head is at the top, with three blue circles representing the crown, brow, and third eye chakras. The torso is yellow, with a red circle representing the heart chakra. The lower body is pink and red, with a red circle representing the base chakra. The arms and legs are depicted with flowing, colorful lines in shades of green, blue, and red. The background is a mix of these colors, creating a vibrant, energetic feel.
